PREFACE.

THE YACHTING RECORD for the year 1901 is more complete than it was the first year of its publication, and contains in addition to the record of races the measurement rules, classification tables and the name, owner, number and racing length of all the yachts that are enrolled in the records of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound.

The record is authorized by the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound, and the tables are made up from the reports of the regatta committees of the clubs in the Association. There were twenty-two clubs in this Association in 1901. It also contains the records of the Gravesend Bay Association, the New York, Larchmont, Atlantic Yacht Clubs and the Newport Association, and the tables of the three international races sailed during the year.

There were 741 class races sailed by these clubs last year. In these races there were 2,218 starters. 414 yachts took part in the contests, many of these yachts of course starting several times. On the Association's books there are 925 yachts which have been assigned racing numbers. These few figures give some idea of the extent of the sport of yachting. THE YACHTING RECORD only publishes the results of the racing between Sandy Hook and Newport.

The classification of the Atlantic Yacht Club is the same as that of the Association.

The Larchmont Yacht Club is a little different. In the sloop classes the "First Class" according to the Association classification is called Class G; the 80-foot class is "Class H;" and the 70-foot class is "Class I." In the classes for catboats Class T is not "not over 25 feet and over 20 feet," and Class V is "not over 20 feet."

The New York Yacht Club classification is the same as the Larchmont Club but only goes as far as the 36-foot class. This is Class M.

MEASUREMENT RULE.

The rule of measurement in force by all the clubs last year was:—

The Larchmont Y. C. and the clubs of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound have adopted a new rule which will be in force during the season of 1902. The rule is:

$$\frac{\frac{1}{2} L. W. L. + \frac{1}{2} \sqrt{S. A.} + L.}{I. I} = R. L.$$

The Quantity L. is to be obtained in the following way:

B is breadth of load water line plane at  $\frac{1}{8}$  of its length from forward end.

B' is breadth of load water line plane at  $\frac{1}{8}$  of its length from after end.

B'' is breadth (greatest) of L. W. plane.

C is any excess of (B+B') over B''.

D is draught at M S +  $\frac{2}{3}$  of any greater draught aft and all of any greater draught forward.

E is any excess of (B'' + D) over  $3\frac{1}{3} \sqrt{M. S.}$  submerged.

C + E = L.
